Was muss gefeiert werden?

Wel über zwei Feste in Deutschland und die Fest ist das: Karneval oder Eid al-Fitr?

Choose two festivals in Germany and the sentences.

Choose two festivals in Germany and the sentences.

vielen Teilen von Deutschland und in vielen anderen Ländern.

Der Karneval findet im Februar an und Fasching.

Die alte Tradition und stammt aus dem 13. Jahrhundert. Die alten Karnevals war, die bösen Geister des Winters zu vertreiben und die Geister des Frühlings zu wecken. Nach zwei Tagen ist die Feier zu Aschermittwoch beginnt die vierzigstägige Fastenzeit vor Ostern.

al-Fitr

Am Ende des heiligen Fastenmonats Ramadan heißt Eid al-Fitr. Das genaue Datum richtet man nach dem islamischen Mondkalender.

In diesem Tag gibt es das Festgebet und alle ziehen besonders schöne Kleider, um in die Moschee oder auf den Gebetsplatz zu gehen. Einige Frauen dekorieren ihre Hände mit Henna.

Die Festlichkeiten geschehen zu Hause mit Verwandten und Familie. Zu dieser Zeit schmückt man das Haus mit Lichtern, gibt Geschenke und bereitet viele Süßigkeiten vor.

Revising the perfect tense II

Spotting different words used to express the same idea

Spotting different words used to express the same idea

When reading and listening, it's useful to spot different ways of saying the same thing.

In the text for activity 1, you'll see that many people use the verb 'tragen'. This is immediately explained by what follows: 'tragen bunte Kleider und Masken, so you know the key idea concerns dressing up / disguising oneself.'

In the listening, activity 2, this same verb occurs, and is explained as follows: 'Richard hatte eine Soldatenuniform an. Ich habe mein Piratenkostüm getragen.'

Challenge: Work with a partner to suggest other ways of expressing these key ideas: dekorieren / Süßigkeiten / Verwandte / Fastenzeit / Süßigkeiten.

sich verkleiden – to wear fancy dress

die Umzüge – processions (pl)

die Wagen – floats (pl)

vertreiben – to drive away

Fastenzeit – Lent

das Gebet – prayer

Skills developed

Studies have shown that learning a second language can lead to:

- Greater self confidence;
- More effective decision-making abilities;
- Greater appreciation for and understanding of other cultures;
- Advanced cognition – boosting brain power in areas such as improved memory;
- Enhanced concentration and focus; with the development of multi-tasking abilities;
- Better ability for problem-solving and critical thinking;
- Significant opportunity to communicate with a wider range of people (personally and professionally);
- Heightened sense of perspective, and critical reasoning;
- Lots of opportunities to work, travel, and live abroad and discover new cultures.
- Improved career prospects – setting you apart from other candidates regardless of sector or skill level – to study at some universities you have to do a language at GCSE; and
- Increased attainment and performance in other academic curriculum subjects, such as Maths or English.

Careers/Next steps

- Languages allow you to be flexible with your future plans; you could enter the world of work, volunteer and travel abroad, or you could continue with languages at college or sixth form, or even at a night class or online.
- Languages Post 16: A-levels are generally the next step for those who are thinking of going to university. The classes are just as exciting and varied as they are for GCSE, but they are also more relaxed and smaller. The course is focused more about the culture of the country and you will study books, songs and films in the language.
- Languages really open doors to the jobs market, particularly post-Brexit, as English is no longer the administrative language of the EU. Here are just a few careers where foreign languages (of any level) are useful:
 - Diplomatic services* International law Charity Tourism and hospitality
 - Politician* Armed forces Journalism and broadcasting Publishing
 - International business and trade* Interpreter/translator Police force
 - Teacher (both here and abroad)* Engineering (especially in Germany)
